

Dr. Naresh Kumar is Professor and Head, Department of Punjabi and Dogri, Central University of Himachal Pradesh, Dhauladhar Campus-I, Dharamshala, District Kangra, Himachal Pradesh – 176215. He holds M.A., M.Phil. and Ph.D. in Punjabi from Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar, and qualified UGC-NET in 2003. His areas of specialization include meta-criticism, Punjabi criticism, Punjabi poetry, Indian knowledge traditions, and the languages and literature of the Sapta Sindhu region. He has been teaching since 2006, has supervised postgraduate and doctoral research, completed major research projects, authored three books, edited ten books, translated two books, published over forty research papers, presented more than fifty papers at national and international seminars, organized numerous academic conferences, and currently serves as Associate Fellow (2024–2027) at the Indian Institute of Advanced Study, Shimla.