

Dr. Rajindar Koshal received his Bachelor of Science from the University of Delhi, a master's degree from the University of Gauhati, followed by a second master's degree and Doctorate from the University of Rochester. At Ohio University, Dr. Koshal was a professor of Economics from 1974-2002. He has been the recipient of several fellowships including of the research fellowship from the Indian Statistical Institute from 1971-72. In 1980 he was also the recipient of outstanding Graduate Faculty Award. He has received several Irwin Distinguished Paper awards at the Midwest Business Economics Association Conference. He was President of the Midwest Business Economics Association in 1992-93 and President of the Association of Economic Studies in 1999-2003.